LEAGUE LAUNCHING FRIDAY NIGHT

"Our Town"

by J. B. WHITE

Finis has been written to the commencement exercises, the baccalaureate sermon has been delivered, the cap and gown have been laid away and the diploma sent away for framing, and still to be heard are only the faintest echoes of the salutatories and valedictories and prophesies and congratulations.

Already the graduate finds himself stumbling about in that blind spot of no-man's land lying between graduation and that hoped for contact with the first real opportunity to make a start in life. It is the way of this sad old world that the highest moments are followed by those of the deepest depression. The first post-graduate days being a sore of dissilusionment and despair when the diploma fails to perform the magic of Aladdin's lamp.

These who have weathered years of life's storm can be of real service to this floundering youth. It is within their power to provide the deciding inspiration in the lives of these. All they want is to be told, when jobs are scarce and compensations offered seem pitiably disproportionate to the cost in time, effort and money of preparation, that the odds are in their favor or that their big chance is coming.

Despicable is that cynicism which prompts a man to torture the young graduate by taunting him with that often heard prattle disparging education and the educated.

An annual contribution to the gaiety of a nation none too gay is now at hand. The approach of the oddly superfluous occasion known as Father's Day brings the usual folder from a telegraph service to aid the dutiful but uninventive child in selecting a greeting to the old man. For the youth in jail, we particularly recommend No. 5: "I thank you for the good example you have always set before your children and wish that I had proved more worthy or it."

For those who favor the limping lyric, there is No. 7: "Each Father's Day, I am more glad that I'm still blessed with dear old ," while others who feel that a touch of poor rhetoric gives a homely touch will lean to No. 10: "Of all the festivals of the year none comes so close to my grateful heart when I send my thoughts to you on Father's Day." The virile note is sounded in No. 4: "As a man to man, as a son to father, to the best Dad ever, I send my love and best wishes today." About some of the others there is a suggestion of unreality, as if an orphan had written them. One may, of course, compose a message of his own.

Father's Day, incidentally, falls on June 14, and it is suggested that fond remembrances wired the old boy on that day be prepaid.

It is an interesting commentary on the art of dining that whenever experts in that particular field gather there is likely to be no foolishness. Frills are for the amateurs; the fundamentals suffice for the experienced gourmet. Witness the rules laid down by the Friends of Escoffier, a group of epicures who met not long ago in New York.

One was that the proper place for the napkin is tucked into the collar under the chin. Another was that absolute silence must reign during the serving of each new dish since "one cannot appreciate good food in the midst of uproarious noise." That provision might go a long way toward the regeneration of civilization, but the restoration of the napkin to its original dignity and usefulness seems a profound and helpful sign.

The napkin, of course, was originally intended to go in the collar. The very young and the very old still tuck it there. On the other hand, we go through most of our lives foregoing some of the enjoyment of our meals through a fear of spilling soup down the front, or dropping the nap-

Altwien Gets 20 Years for Murder

Twenty years in prison was the verdict in district court Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in the case of Arthur Altwien, charged with the murder of his brother, Joe Altwien.

The case went to the jury Wednesday night at nine o'clock. An appeal will be taken, Roy Baskin, one of Altwien's attorneys said.

The defendant showed no emotion when the verdict was read. The jury found him guilty of murder with malice and forethought in shooting his brother, Joe Altwien, 47, with a shot gun on Sunday morning, May 3, at a fishing party on the river near San Grabriel.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wheeler, a sister and brother-in-law of the defendant, Miss Bernice Sims, who was referred to as "Arthur's girl", and Mrs. Fritz Altwien, were sitting in the court room behind the defendant when the verdict was read. Each of them cried.

Arthur Altwien, the convicted man, sat and talked with his attorney, Roy Baskin. He was smiling as he kissed his sister and Miss Sims and left the court room.

ACREY IS CHAIRMAN FOR EDISON AWARD

Rev. O. C. Acrey has been named by Colonel W. B. Tuttle of San Antonio, to be Chairman of the Edison Memorial for Cameron.

The plan projected by the Foundation, according to Colonel Tuttle, State Chairman, in connection with the announcement of the foregoing appointment, carries out a living memorial to the great inventor a project conceived by Mr. Edison just before his death by which, in his own words, he hoped "To bring unusual youth and unusual opportunity together."

Cooperating in what is perhaps the most unique and far-reaching educational effort ever undertaken in America are the nations leading corporations. Many of them owe their origin to Edison's inventions.

Annual competition for Edison Scholar grants are to be drawn from three general classes of applicants. These include young men and women employed in industry who, through lacking scholastic qualifications for matriculation in scientific schools, nevertheless possess special aptitude; graduates of colleges and universities

JUST FOR FUN

Sam: "Lissen heah, boy, jes' what kind o' life you been living?"

Rastus: "Oh, ordinary, jus' ordinary."

Sam: "Well if yo' pulls any mo aces out o' yo' shoe, yo' ordinary life is goin' to mature."

Woman may not have more backbone than a man, but most of them show most of it.

Little Rosalie, a first grader, walking with her mother, spoke to a small boy:

'His name is Jimmy and he is in my grade,' she exclaimed.

"What is the little boy's last name?" her mother asked.

"His hold name" said Rosalie, "is Jimmy Sitdown—that's what the teacher calls him."

One of Levinsky's customers was notorious for his slowness in meeting liabilities. In desperation Levinski sent the following letter.

"Sir: Who bought a lot of goods from me and did not pay? You who promised to pay in sixty days? You who didn't pay in six months? You who is a thief, liar and scoundrel?"

Yours truly,
Al Levinski.

A man moved into a strange community and decided to visit one of his new neighbors:

Man: "Good morning lady, where is your husband?"

Lady: "He is working.'

Man: "Working on Sunday?"

Lady: "Certainly."

Man: "Are there any Christians in this country?"

Lady: 'I don't know, but my husband is a great hunter and you can go out to the smoke house and see if he has any of the hides."

MAKE LIFE THE BEST

By Sidney Hause

Each day has its loveliness,
It's beauty and it's gold.
The winds may have their bitterness
Their stinging blast of cold.
Yet each day has its tenderness
For hungry hearts to hold.

At least one smile will meet you
One word at least be kind
Your fears cannot defeat you
For you will surely find
One grateful heart to greet you
From the smile you left behind

At least one will come near you
Whose tender clasp will cling
One trusting soul will cheer you
One voice a song will sing
One listening ear will hear you
And the message that you bring.

So each day has its happiness
Its sun and rainbow hue
Its little loves and friendliness
Its life warm task to do
And all you seek of loveliness
Awaits each day for you.

The pupils who have been neither absent nor tardy for the school year, 1935-36, are somewhat smaller than usual, but that is the more reason, why recognition and credit should be given to the few who have that distinction.

There was a period of about two months when meningitis, measles, and other ailments was playing havoc with school attendance.

There were only two pupils at the Ada Henderson school who were neither absent nor tardy:

Geraldine Vogel, Ralph Gunn.

At the Yoe High school there were five pupils neither absent nor tardy:

"It is intended to keep the Scholar Plan democratic and flexible in its workings. Each state will hold its own competition and, within the limitations of the national qualification board, awards will be made to successful candidates in each state. The grants will be of sufficient monetary value to provide for the purpose in view in each individual case. The grants will have no uniform monetary values, not be spread over any predetermined length of time. Grants may be made available to men and women in the place in which they are working.

"The Edison scholar plan will be set up on a broad, competitive basis so as to enlist the widest possible interest, not only of industrial and educational leaders, but of all youths of significant promise. There were 100,000 applicants for the one scholarship offered by Mr. Edison six years ago.

In general, according to the announcement, it is the plan of the Foundation to reverse the usual order in scholarships and instead of making the student fit the scholarship, the scholarship will be made to fit the student in the hope of affording each one as nearly as possible the sum total of human knowledge of the kind that will best equip the scholar for a certain specified career.

FARM CLUB NEWS

Timely fruit drippings comes from J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist in regard to early summer orchard cares.

Spraying. June ripening varieties of peaches should be sprayed now with lime sulphur. July ripening peaches should be sprayed now and early in July. Make the spray as follows: When it is not possible to obtain stone lime, 8 pounds of sulphur may be mixed with 8 pounds of hydrated lime, and this material placed in a barrel and covered with 5 gallons of boiling water. If lime and sulphur have not dissolved, heat until mixture becomes an orange color. Stir constantly for 10 minutes and dilute with enough water to make 50 gallons of liquid. The spray should be strained into the spray tank to eliminate undissolved particles stopping up the nozzle.

Pruning. Now is the proper time to prune and shape fruit trees set out last winter. If the branches have not come out uniformly, select the best shoot of this season's growth and cut off the entire top above the shoot. The remaining shoot of current season's growth will send out side branches all the same length to make a perfect top.

Berry Pruning. As soon as the crop is harvested from the dewberries and blackberries, cut off all old growth leaving the new sprout growth that has come out from the ground line this season. If the new sprouts are too thick, thin to 3-5 per plant.

Setting Strawberries. During this season the runner plants may be taken from the mother strawberry plant and set out in the rows spacing them 12 inches apart. The plants will have ample time to become established before the dry weather begins and during the cool fall season will develop numerous fruit buds for a crop of berries next spring. Five to seven pounds of 4-12-4 fertilizer mixture should be applied for each 100 feeet of row, prior to or at the time the strawberries are set out.

GARDEN HINTS

"In harvesting Irish potatoes, place them in a shady place as soon as dug where they can 'dry off' for 24 to 48 hours before storing."

Mr. Rosborough explained that when onion tops have fallen over, pull up the onions and pile them in a shady place and the second day clip the tops back to one-half to one-fourth of an inch in length. Onions of the Bermuda type can be stored for a short while. The sweet Spanish or globe type of onions are preferable for long storage.

Mr. Rosborough went on to say that, "Should the lower leaves on the tomato plants have small brown or black areas and the general lower foliage of the plants should be sprayed with one pound of bluestone, two pounds of hydrated lime to 12 gallons of water.

PROGRESS OF EDUCATION

By GERTRUDE BOEDEKER
Salutatorian Class of 1935-36
YOE HIGH SCHOOL

Happy—yes, we are happy tonight. How could graduates be otherwise? We are glad that such an enthusiastic audience of friends and instructors have gathered to greet us on this our graduating night. The class of 1936 heartily welcome you this evening to their program of love and praise for our state educational system which fits us to enter into the broad field of life where each one of us must soon pass to begin life's work.

We realize that not every land or every state places education upon such a democratic basis. We are glad that we shall be able to carry on to all classes the opportunities furnished us in this school. Good high schools, such as our's, are necessary to prepare the children of Texas for whatever field of life they may choose. They mould the youth who are to become leaders during their most impressionable and vital period, the years of early adolescence. Because secondary education is so important we shall investigate what Texas has accomplished in this important field

With a few brilliant and far-seeing exceptions the people of the Texas republic did not view education as a civic or public duty. They preferred to depend upon private initiative, religious interest, and community enterprise, to provide institutions of learning for all grades. Private academies were the first secondary schools, and these consisted largely of elementary departments. Today only a few academies remain in the larger centers of populations.

For many years a system of public secondary education was discussed and debated, but it seemed as if the dream of the ambitious people would never be realized. The first municipal high school in Texas was finally established at Brenham in 1875. Soon other high schools were begun in the larger towns. In 1882, only seven years after the first high school was established, Cameron provided for a high school for its citizens which has grown and continued to progress to this day.

Public high schools were not accepted without opposition. The opponents of the high schools contended that the obligation of the state was completely fulfilled by equipping every future citizen with a knowledge of the elements of learning, such as reading and writing. But the people found that their children after passing through the elementary grades were too immature and needed further training before entering upon the duties of life.

The people of Texas have always been interested in more practical lines of training.

So we find that manual training, domestic science, art, and other vocational subjects were placed in the secondary schools.

The high schools of Texas have developed rapidly during the last few years, and rank high among the state systems of education, in the United States.

The high school faculties realize more and more fully that they are not merely an agency to select and train a gifted minority. The high school owes as much to the boys who aim to become farmers, carpenters, salesmen, mechanics or manufacturers as those who enter the learned professions.

We find that what has been done is not as significant and hopeful in itself as it is in its promise of more to come. The cause of education is ever in the minds and hearts of the Texas people.

MAGNIFICENT CAST IN "GARCIA" FILM

Glamorous nights in the tropic wilderness—three brave companions fighting against the jungle's menace—romance, adventure and daring feats of courage!

Those are the things 20th Century has captured in "A Message to Garcia," coming to the Cameron Theatre Friday and Saturday June 12 and 13.

Topping the cast is Wallace Beery, in the role of a lovable rogue, while Barbara Stanwyck and John Boles are joined in the romantic leads.

About the perilous adventures of the man who carried the message to Garcia, the picture unwinds its story, leads up to the crashing, searing climax in which Beery gives his life so that those of his friends might be spared.

George Marshall directed this new Darryl F. Zanuck production.

COOPER IN NEW MOOD

While Cooper has appeared in comedy roles before, in "Design for Living," for example, he has never really made a picture in the mood of "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town." This may be attributed to the fact that this is Cooper's first film under Capra's direction. Capra captures a mood all of his own. The director started something when he made "Lady For a Day," and then "It Happened One Night." The world has been mad about "charm" pictures ever since.

Starred with Gary Cooper in "Mr. Deeds Goes To Town" is Jean Arthur; coming to the Cameron Theatre Sunday and Monday June 14 and 15.

He looks like a high school boy, but he's the idol of millions of kids throughout America and has the largest radio following of anybody on the air today.

He's Jimmie Allen. Every night, in homes all over the country, the children take possession of radios as they listen excitedly to the hair-raising perils that Jimmie meets.

When Paramount decided to produce "The Sky Parade," which comes to the Cameron Theatre Thursday, June 11, a picture based on Jimmy's adventures, they sent for him to come to Hollywood, to give the creator of the original radio character a chance to portray it on the screen.

William Gargan and Katherine De Mille are teamed with Jimmie Allen in "The Sky Parade," a new film of adventure high in the clouds.

THE MERGER OF TWO STRONG INSURANCE ORGANIZATIONS

Since the death of my husband, Jacob Isaac, who died on April 1st, the Board of Directors of the Mutual State Life Insurance Company and I have been considering the best way to protect the future interests of the policy-holders.

We decided it would be best not to make a direct sale but to merge with some Local Company in whose management we could place utmost faith, since this would give us an opportunity to see that our policy-holders were cared for.

On May 14th the Board of Directors unanimously voted to merge with the Temple Mutual Life Insurance Company, effective May 20, a company which we know to be financially sound, and in whose management you will find honesty, experience, and loyalty to the policy-holder.

MRS. OLLIE ISAAC.

Minutes of the Meeting of Mutual State Life Insurance Company's Board of Directors, May 14, 1936.

The Board of Directors of the Mutual State Life Insurance met in the home office of the Company on May 14th at the call of the Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Ollie Isaac. Directors present were Mrs. Ollie Isaac, W. F. Blair, J. K. Knight, W. T. Via, and Frank Valenta. W. F. Blair, president of the company, presided at the meeting.

The purpose of the meeting was to approve a contract entered into by Mrs. Ollie Isaac acting as Secretary-Treasurer of the Mutual State Life Insurance Co. and E. T. Knight, acting as Secretary-Treasurer of the Temple Mutual Life Insurance Association to merge the two companies and make them one. The contract stated that the said E. T. Knight would act as Secretary-Treasurer of the merged company and that the said Mrs. Isaac would act as Vive President. The said contract also stated that the present Board of Directors of the Mutual State Life Insurance Co. would remain as Directors of the merged Company if they wished and they all agreed to do so.

The Contract was read by Mr. Blair, and the motion was made by Mr. Via and seconded by Mr. J. K. Knight that the contract be accepted. The vote was unanimous.

There being no further business, the motion was made by Mr. Via and seconded by Mr. J. K. Knight that the meeting be adjourned.

W. F. BLAIR, President
MRS. OLLIE ISAAC, Secretary.

The Mutual State Life Insurance Company, was organized by the late Mr. Jacob Isaac, some two and a half years ago. Mr. Isaac had formerly been connected with an insurance company in Bartlett and while with that company, made a record of which any one would be proud. Knowing Mr. Isaac to be well versed in insurance and capable of building a good company, we felt perfectly safe in merging his new company, known as the Mutual State Life, with ours. By merging these two young associations, it has made the Temple Mutual Life doubly strong and one of the safest in Central Texas.

ROSEBUD IS TOO GOOD FOR CAMERON COMETS

The Cameron Icers got upset in Sunday's game at Rosebud. The score was 9 to 4 in favor of Rosebud. Cameron seemed to be unable to get a point where they could turn on full steam. The new left handed pitcher, Adams from A. & M. College, could not find his stride so he was relieved in the third inning by Henie Schottle. "Bully" Parcus, a left handed, pitched for Rosebud.

Rosebud scored the first run in the second inning when McGee doubled and scored on a single by Buffington. Rosebud scored two more runs in the third inning when Adams weakened and walked two men. Schottle came in to the mound and Jansing, the slugging center fielder for the Roses, took Schottle's first ball for two bases scoring Shaw and Vogelsang.

Cameron made a showing in the fourth inning when Jenness rapped a two bagger and scored on a single by F. E. Jackson.

In Rosebud's half of the 5th inning they made four runs when Schottle walked Shaw and Lowe; McGee singled, and Buffington doubled and an error by Cameron's third baseman netted four runs.

The Icers made two runs in the 6th when Timmerman singled and scored on Jackson's single. Jackson scored on a two bagger by Boots Smith.

Pradka, Red Muldrews latest find, hit a three bagger in the 7th inning, scoring Mier from first base.

Jenness led off for the Icers in the 8th inning with a nice two base blow. B. Z. Jackson, theIcers' short stop, flied out but F. E. Jackson followed Jenness's stride with another three bagger scoring Jenness. Smith and Schottle flied out and the Icers failed to make good their threat to come from behind. Thus the game ended 9 to 4.

Rosebud made 9 runs, 13 hits, 1 error. Cameron made 4 runs, 11 hits, 1 error. Parcus struck out 8 men, walked two; Adams struck out none, walked one; Schottle struck out 2, walked 6. Prodka hit a 3 base hit. Shaw, McGee, Buffington of Rosebud each hit two base blows. F. E. Jackson of Cameron got a two base lick and Jenness and Smith each got two two-baggers. Henderson Walker and Jones were umpires.

The Cameron Icers will play the Temple Surgeons at Cameron next Sunday, June 14. Redden Alford, the Icers' manager, has promised the fans a more perfected team to clash with the strong team "Buddy" Rambo says he will bring from Temple.

The game will be called at 3:30 p. m. on the Lawless Green Field.

Milam Growers are Told How to Prevent Wilting Disease on Melon Vines

How we can prevent watermelons from wilting and dying, farmers in every part of Milam County are asking and E. D. Pornell, Cameron teacher of Vocational Agriculture, has some suggestions to offer readers of the Herald that may prove helpful. All "wilts" are classified as fungous diseases and are the type that spread rapidly in damp, cloudy weather. The fungous enters the plant through the leaves, clogs up the vessels that carry the sap, and leaves the stems with dark streaks through them. Wilt cannot be cured after it gets started but it may be prevented by the use of 4-4-50 Bordeaux mixture, keeping the leaves covered with a coating of the spray for a period of several weeks. This spray likewise will prevent rust of cantaloupes and helps to drive off the striped cucumber beetle, one of the worst spreaders of the wilt disease.

For wilt of watermelons the Bordeaux is less effective, so melon growers are warned not to put melon crops on the same land two years in succession, to prevent drainage water from running on the melon field from an infected field, avoiding stable manure use in areas where the disease is bad since the manure makes an ideal place for the fungous to grow. These are preventative measures as there is little to do in controlling wilt of watermelons. Efforts are under way to breed a resistant variety but so far has not been entirely successful.

For wilt on cantaloupes the pulling and burning of the wilted plants that are first affected is of some help, but the use of the 4-4-50 Bordeaux is the best measure available. The Bordeaux is made by dissolving 4 pounds of bluestone in a little hot water, slaking 4 pounds of stone lime in water and mixing the two; then adding enough water to make 50 gallons of spray. Six pounds of hydrated lime may be substituted for the four pounds stone lime. Wooden or earthenware vessels should be used as the mixture corrodes metals. The spray is best when mixed up fresh but stock soultions may be used.

The Bordeaux, besides being a good spray to prevent wilts, is also of value to prevent black rot of grapes, flea beetles of potatoes, and many other fungous diseases including mildew of roses.

Wilts also affect tomatoes, peas, cotton and other plants. The disease may be prevented in these plants, especially tomatoes and peas, by planting resistant varieties. Marglobe and Break O' Day are resistant tomato varieties, while Brabham, Victor and Iron are cowpea varieties resistant to wilt, Parnell reports. Other information relative to this disease may be secured from the department of Vocational Agriculture.

Altwien

who was here for the trial, was not in the court room when the verdict was read.

Incidents which occured that moonlight night of May 3 around a campfire on the San Gabriel river which led to the fatal shooting of Joe Altwien of Temple were related to a jury in Milam district court here Tuesday night and Wednesday as the murder trial of Arthur Altwien, 27, came to a close.

The defendant took the stand in his own behalf Tuesday night, following the appearance of his estranged wife, his mother, Mrs. Ella Altwien of Temple, a sister, Mrs. Alvin Wheeler, and other friends and relatives, who testified to the relations of the two brothers prior to the shooting.

Argued On Wednesday

Joe Altwien, 47, was shot between the eyes with a .410 gauge shotgun.

The case was argued Wednesday afternoon before a jury.

Arthur Altwein was on the witness stand an hour Tuesday night. In substance his story was as follows:

"When I am drunk I can recall some incidents and sometimes my memory is blank." The defendant said that some of the happenings at the camp that night were hazy."

He did recall that his brother came toward him with the threat "I'm going to crush every bone in your body," and that there was "something shining in his hand that I took for a knife."

Altwien Tells Story

Altwien's story of the occurances immediately preceding the shooting follows: "Fritz, my brother asked me something. We were around the camp fire. I don't recall all I said. But Joe came over and said 'You're talking too loud and cursing.'

"I told Joe I was sorry and would not do it any more. Fritz said 'let's take a walk.'

"I said all right and asked Fritz if he had a flashlight and if so, we would kill some frogs. We walked on away and Joe followed. He kept talking about my cursing and said he did not think it smart in me cursing in front of the women. I didn't pay any attention to him and told Fritz that we could not kill frogs without a gun.

'I went back and picked up a gun and put a shell in it. I walked back toward Joe and Fritz. Joe was coming toward me and said 'I'm going to crush every bone in your body.' The moon was shining and it looked like Joe had something shiny in his hand. I figured it was a knife. I threw the gun up and told Joe if he came any closer I would shoot him. He kept coming and I shot him."

10 Gallons of Home Brew

Evidence produced showed that there was a ten gallon container with home brew in it at the fishing party.

State witnesses were: Lingle Wilson of Lilac; Wiley Wilson, San Gabriel; Mrs. Joe Altwien, Temple; Edgar Sanders, Dr. C. D. Johnson and Donald Lee of Thorndale; Bill Rosenbeck, Detmold and Sheriff Max Kennedy of Cameron.

Defense witnesses were: Hope Camp, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James Terry and Bob Cummings, San Gabriel; Mrs. Ella Altwien, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wheeler and Mrs. Fritz Alawien of Temple.

Evidence showed that the following were present at the camp on the San Gabriel river when the shooting occured: Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wheeler, Mr .and Mrs. Joe Altwien, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Altwien, Pete Wilson, Bob Cummings, Miss Bernice Simms and Lingle and Wiley Wilson.

The state rested its case Tuesday at 2 p. m. When two of the jurors failed to show up with the other 10 the defense asked for a mistrial, which plea Judge W. G. Gillis overruled. The Jurors were later found in the jury room up stairs.

Mrs. Ella Altwien, mother of the defendant and the deceased, Joe Altwien, testified Tuesday. She stated that Joe, the older of the two brothers was "everbearing and domineering" toward Arthur, the younger brother, and that Joe "drank" very much." She further stated that Joe had talked very ugly and abusive" to her (his mother) on Wednesday night before the homicide on Sunday morning. "Joe had come by the home and asked for Arthur and Arthur was not at home at the time but I asked Joe to wait for him, but he refused and talked very ugly to me,'" she declared.

"Arthur loved his brother very much. He worshipped him," Mrs. Altwien said in reference to her two sons.

Mrs. Alvin Wheeler, sister of the defendant and the deceased, Joe Altwien, stated that on the fishing party, where the homicide occurred, that the two men were drunk, and that after the shooting, Arthur acted "like a crazy man."

Mr. and Mrs. James Terry of San Gabriel with whom the two brothers, Joe and Arthur Altwien boarded, while they were working on the San Gabriel school, stated that Joe and Arthur shared a room and that while Joe and Arthur stayed at their home there had never been any cross words or ill will between the two boys.

Hope Camp, Sr., of San Gabriel testified that he was at the camp on the San Gabriel river where the killing took place, the morning afterwards, and that he found a pocket knife and a smoking pipe of Joe Altwien, in a puddle of blood. The knife was produced in court.

James Terry, a defense witness testified that before the two brothers went on the fishing party that Arthur borrowed Joe's knife to open a can of machine oil. He did not know whether the knife was returned to Joe Altwien or not.

A small admission charge of 10c will be made. All funds will go to the band uniform fund.

Willard Skelton, President of the Band Parents Association, said Wednesday that prospects are good for a profitable season on the league game schedule, and that citizens have the best opportunity yet presented to make this significant advance possible for the band. For the small admission price of 10c the average citizen will not feel the burden of the ultimate sum to be raised and in the aggregate if the games are well patronized the program will succeed in a big way and the funds necessary for the uniforms will be raised.

John W. Haygood who has been named league manager, said Wednesday morning that 8 teams have been entered. A complete schedule will be published next week for remainder of the season. A complete set of rules have been adopted and will be rigidly followed. Late Wednesday the committee met to complete final details for the league schedule.

It is possible that games will be played three times a week but for the present games are to be played on Tuesday and Friday nights. Double headers will be played each night and with eight teams each league represented will play a game a week.

Team averages are to be compiled and the team standing will be published each week.

Everything was in readiness for the grand opening on Friday night. The first game is called for 8 o'clock. In the meantime the four managers who are to launch the league with their teams are getting things in order. So it looks like three oil gangs and a Horned Frog will make history under the flood lights Friday night.. Mr. Citizen will be on the side lines to enjoy the program and the fine youngsters who make up the band personnel will be smiling to know they will have some new and sparkling uniforms this fall.

He will speak on the work of the General Assembly at Augusta, Georgia which was in session from May 21 to 27. Dr. Watson will make a further report at the coming Presbytery in Marlin this fall.

Safeway Stores In City Re-Decorated

Manager Harry Blint of the Safeway Stores is doing a good job of keeping the store modern in every way.

Decorators have just completed repainting the store inside and out and patrons of the store and the great family of Herald readers will find a message of interest this week on prices for the week end.

ENCAMPMENT

F. E. Jackson has been chosen to assist Rev. O. C. Acrey, platform manager in the Young People's encampment of Central Texas Presbytery at Belton June 29 to July 4.

Jackson will have charge of the recreation and athletics at the encampment and at this time, Jackson is making plans to entertain 100 or more boys and girls.

There are 2,500,000 golfers in the United States, unless census takers have overlooked a few in the deeper ditches.

If you aren't idle upper class or thrifty middle class or a taxpayer or an office holder, you must be "the people."

Nervous, Weak Woman Soon All Right

"I had regular shaking spells from nervousness," writes Mrs. Cora Sanders, of Paragould, Ark. "I was all run-down and cramped at my time until I would have to go to bed. After my first bottle of Cardui, I was better. I kept taking Cardui and soon I was all right. The shaking quit and I did not cramp. I felt worlds better. I gave Cardui to my daughter who was in about the same condition and she was soon all right."

CARDUI

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.
